

All American Check Cashing, Inc., 815 F.3d 959, 965 (5th Cir. 2016), that an employer's mere access to information is insufficient to impute constructive knowledge that an employee was working overtime.

Having considered the motions, admissible evidence, pleadings, the file, the well-reasoned and thorough Report, and record in this case, and having conducted a de novo review of that portion of the Report to which objections were made, the court determines that the magistrate judge's findings and conclusions are correct, and accepts them as those of the court. Even if viewed as timely, Plaintiffs' objections fail for essentially the reasons stated in Defendants' response to the objections and are, therefore, overruled. Accordingly, there is no genuine dispute of material fact regarding Plaintiffs' claim for alleged FLSA overtime violations, and Defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law. The court grants Defendants' Summary Judgment Motion (Doc. 45); denies Plaintiffs' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (Doc. 53), as granting their motion would be legally inconsistent with the determination the court made regarding Defendants' summary judgment motion; and dismisses with prejudice all claims asserted by Plaintiffs in this action against Defendants.

It is so ordered this 19th day of May, 2022.
